BRAND NEW – Export custom place events

Introducing a new function: Export custom place events. Now you can export and import both custom places and also events at them.

When you create and edit custom places and the events happening at them, it is recommended first to edit the listed custom places (export and then import them after they have been edited) and then either create a new list of custom place events or edit the existing list (export and then import the events)

IMPORTANT NOTE:

Before any editing is done, you should export both the custom places and their events. Keep both files always backed up. Always work with the full list of custom places and their events.

SOMETHING NEW - option to turn on/off sending messages

A new checkbox "Send a message while sending a transport to a driver" has been added to "Other settings" in company settings.

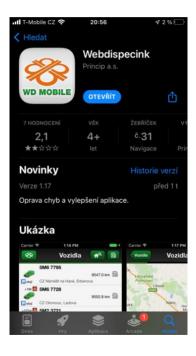

If it is ticked, drivers will receive a message about a new transport in the WD Fleet mobile app.
