NOTICE – All training will be online

Dear customers,

to protect our health and minimize spread of Covid-19 all training will be online.

Before training every registered person get e-mail with details.

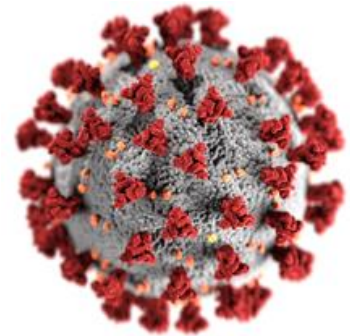

We are moving personal meetings to alternative date or by phone or we can use online tools.

Our company still working, but from home, so although we can cover everything, it will take a bit longer as our access to our sources are limited.

Technical support is still available on the phone number +420 233 555 111.

Thank you for your understanding and good health to all!
